I participated in this debate as affirmative / denial / referee / moderator / audience.

[] vs [] victory of Affirmative / Denial sides.

Impression you actually tried.

--

I was in the position that it was neither affirmative nor denial in relation to this topic nor either, but it became the position that it is neither affirmative nor denial through this debate.

(It was the affirmative side of the debate, let's write your own position whether it was a denial.)

Let's write the reason for taking the above position on the next page "Why did you take that position?"

Why did you take that position?

Listen to the opinions of other people and write down points that you got helpful and points you thought.
