

〈Japan's social problems and blood donation〉

Currently, social issues in Japan are closely related to blood donation.

Please feel free to write about what kind of social problems

Write freely about what social problems you think are related.

(ex) Issues of waiting children, economic disparity, etc.

One of the social issues closely related to blood donation is the declining birthrate and aging population. What measures would be effective in dealing with the problem of a declining birthrate and aging population? Write about it freely.