

1. Total time the foreign student talked : 52 seconds / 10 minutes
2. Time it took to start the conversation : 4 minutes 25 seconds
3. Topic: Contents of the conversation taken between foreign student and Japanese students during the experiment (10 minutes)
 - Only self-introduction (Nothing else) 自己紹介のみ
4. Answers to the questionnaire for the foreign student
 - A) How was it?

It was a very salutary experience.
 - B) Could you talk with Japanese students smoothly?

No.
 - C) Why do you think so?

Because nobody tried to speak. They could have talked about some kind of topic.
 - D) Impressions for Japanese students

I think it's crazy how language prevents us from communicating and it was stressful.
 - E) What do you think is something you could do to enjoy this experiment more?

I should have talked more. Something about culture.
 - F) Things you thought was the obstacle when communicating with Japanese students

I think it is language.
 - G) What do you think is important when talking with people who speak different language as you?

To try to talk something.
5. Answers to the questionnaire for Japanese students
 - A) How was it?
 - It finished in no time.
 - I couldn't really talk.
 - 10 minutes was very quick
 - Even though I tried to talk with the foreign student, I couldn't change something I want to say to English.
 - I can't speak English well and because the participants were upper classmen I couldn't be active. Maybe Zoom made it hard for us to communicate.
 - I'm sorry it finished like this.

6. Observation

Students were waiting to see who will start talking and they self-introduced but after that everyone remained silent. Also, the staff told them to turn on the mike and the camera but some Japanese students and foreign student did not turn on most of the time so it was hard to see the situation. It seemed like it was being hard to speak as the time goes by. We sent some topics we prepared for them to use but we thought that because they weren't able to express in English and because they didn't have confidence in their English they barely talked.
